Three Months75There is always this consolation, things might be worse. Let us pray.Considering the attitude of the O.
S. L. heretofore Logan may be thankful that it is even on a spur.The insurance magnates can at least be thankful that the investigation did not come sooner.Speaking of Thanksgiving, Mr. Burt ner, umpire of the recent football game, has reason to be thankful that there is a law in Utah.The man who can find no material thing to be thankful for can at least be thankful that Thanksgiving day comes but once a year.The knowledge that farm valuation has increased $3,000,000 in the past five years is little comfort to the Cache valley farmers whose beet crops were a failure this year.The statement is made that the Bell Telephone Co. has fifty subscribers in Smithfield and twenty-two in Benson. It begins to look as though the people generally are beginning to take advantage of this great means of communication.That one and all can find something for which to be thankful is suggested in the reply of an elderly lady to a question propounded. A friend said: "Aunt, what can you, poor, old and wrinkled, ready to go to your grave after a long life of toil and struggle, find to be thankful for?"
The old lady thought for a minute and replied: "Well, I ain't got but two teeth left, but I thank the Lord they hit." There's a lesson in that.It is to be hoped that the city council may find it within their inclination and means to coincide with the recommendations of the committee on police and fire for better fire protection. This city should have the best fire protection possible obtainable with means at command. The business men who make the city what it is have a right to this protection, and every individual citizen owning property should have the assurance that this property will not go up in smoke without a reasonably effective effort on the part of a well equipped fire department to prevent it.

Good Soil for Best Beet Results.

The harvesting of the beet crop is now on and it is the proper time to consider the selection of soil for the 1906 crop and get the preliminary work under way, says the Sugar Beet Culturist. The importance of selecting good soil, and taking the crop up in a rotation is becoming more and more understood and practiced.
Probably never before has so much fell plowing been done for the beet crop, as has been done this fall, and never at this time has there been so much sentiment toward growing the crop for another season.Many farmers have already selected their beet lands and others are debating which field shall be used. We say use the best. The beet crop pays the best and consequently is entitled to the best because results are what we are looking for from our crops. The soil must be in good condition, otherwise the results will not be up to expectations.It is best to select good, rich, level ground for sugar beets because the richer the soil the better the crop, and the grower will be rewarded for selecting good soil; then good work is another essential thing which must not be neglected even if the soil is rich in production, for a clean and well cultivated field is bound to give good results. It has been experienced by growers that if the field is cultivated and hoed oftener during the growing season a difference can be noticed by the rapid growth of the plants. Deep plowing for the beet field will repay the cost of an extra horse in the weeding time. Weed seed will germinate at above two inches and thus should be put down deep enough to smother them, and deep enough so that cultivation will not bring them to the surface.

The Football Game.

The Odds and Ends, and Everything Picked up in PassingAfter the game many of the A. C. youngsters, not understanding just exactly what was expected of them, stood on the street corners and made life exceedingly uncomfortable for individual members of the University team as they strolled about. A red cap or flag was the signal for derisive yells and doubtful remarks. As said before, these bunches were made up largely of the preps, and the little fellows generally, who were filled with what they felt was "college spirit" and they did not know quite how to dispose of themselves. The University boys and their friends took all these taunts with perfect grace and showed little resentment.The march of the A. C. students down Main, headed by the Military band, was inspiring. The young lady rooters were bedecked in blue and white, and each wore a dainty blue cap with the letter "A" in white.
Some of boys affected this cap also.
There was some yelling and singing and the hubbub attendant upon marching hundreds.The University excursion brought up exactly 169 from the capital.
These with the goodly bunch that came up the evening before swelled the Salt Lake rooters to fully 200.
They made sufficient noise for at least 500.The Domestic Science girls banquitted the two teams and several visitors, at 6 o'clock. There was everything good on hand, and the best of feeling prevailed. The U. of U. boys stayed over and attended a ball.

Very Ill

The many friends of President C. D.
Fjeldstad will regret to learn that he is lying very ill at the L. D. S. hospital in Salt Lake city. The venerable gentleman has been operated on twice for an abscess in the urinal organs, which seems to be ineffective without another. Owing to his weak condition it may be improbable that further operations will be performed.

Why He Could Not Spare Him.

The late Rev. Elijah Kellough, it is said, was once fiercely opposed during one of his pastorates by an infidel in the town, who was a leader in all opposition to religion, and took much satisfaction in discovering inconsistencies in the lives of church members, and in publishing them through the neighborhood.For some reason he decided to remove to another part of the state.
Meeting the pastor one day, he said:
"Well, I suppose you know I am going to leave town, and I suppose you will be glad of it."
"Glad of it? Why, no," replied the doctor; "I shall be very sorry to lose you. You are so useful to me in my work here I hardly know how I can spare you."The man was much taken aback, and asked, "How is that?"
"Why," rejoined the pastor, "every time a sheep gets its foot out of my fold you back from one end of the town to the other. You are the most useful watchdog that I ever knew."—
